Headline Inflation Maintains the Rising Trend to 22.04% in March 2023

The NBS released the CPI report for March on Saturday (April 15) as scheduled. Contrary to our projection, headline inflation sustained its upward trajectory, rising by 0.13% to 22.04%. This is the third consecutive monthly increase and the highest inflation rate since September 2005. The sustained uptick in consumer price inflation can be largely attributed to increases in the price of food and non-food items. The disruptive and aberrational effects of the initial cash squeeze and re-infusion of old Naira notes exacerbated inflationary pressures. It also brings to the fore the difference between inflation expectations and inflation psychology. The latter is driven by uncertainties surrounding demand, while the former is based on seasonality (planting season). A breakdown of the data revealed that all annual sub-indices moved in tandem with headline inflation, except rural inflation. For instance, month-on-month inflation, a measure of current price movement, rose by 0.15% to 1.86% (annualized: 24.67%). The food price index increased marginally by 0.1% to 24.45% while core inflation (inflation less seasonalities) jumped by 1.02% to 19.86%. The spike in core inflation is partly due to the rise in house rents (higher costs of building materials) and electricity tariff hikes (gradual phasing out of electricity subsidy). The sustained acceleration in core inflation suggests that inflation risks are elevated. Rural inflation fell marginally by 0.01% to 21.09% whilst urban inflation rose sharply by 0.29% to 23.07%. This largely reflects the impact of inflation psychology and planting season. The urban-rural inflation gap rose to 1.98% from 1.68% in February. All monthly inflation sub-indices (measures the current movement of prices) increased in the month of March. This partly reflects increased demand due to cash availability. Borno state recorded the lowest inflation rate in March (19.18%), followed by Cross River (19.24%) and Benue (20.01%). These are major food-producing states. Benue is the Nation’s food basket while Cross River is the largest producer of rice and Borno is one of the major producers of grains. The states with the highest inflation rates are Ondo (25.38%), Bayelsa (24.80%), and Lagos (24.66%). Most of these states are market points.

Outlook

Headline inflation is expected to increase in April as aggregate demand increases (Easter and Ramadan Celebrations). This would be compounded by supply shortfalls owing to the planting season. The continued acceleration in consumer price inflation increases the probability of another rate hike at the MPC meeting next month (25bps). The IMF has also urged the CBN to maintain a hawkish monetary policy stance to rein in inflation.

Capital Market Summary

Analysis of the market activity in the week ended April 20, 2023 shows that the Nigerian equity market continued to close on a negative note. The NGX All Share Index and market capitalization of listed equities depreciated by 1.08% each from the opening figures of 51,893.94 and N28,268 trillion to close at 51,355.74 and N27,963 trillion respectively. Its year to date (YTD) return stands at +0.20%.

STOCK MARKET REPORT

Domestic Market Review

OUTLOOK AND STOCK RECOMMENDATION FOR THE WEEK

24/04/23-28/04/2023 . The Nigerian Equities Market continued with the negative performance during the week. The listed equities market, NGXASI, recorded a loss of 1.04% W-o-W and the NASD OTC closed positive with a 0.11% gain W-o-W. The NGXASI closed the week with a loss of 1.08% as against a 2.08% loss recorded last week. The Nigerian Exchange recorded N304.49b loss in naira terms. In Year-to-date, the NGXASI closed positive at close of the week with a gain of 0.20% as market capitalization settled at N27.96trn. The impressive end of year results of most blue chip companies coupled with low and attractive prices of these companies are impacting positively on the market. The loss in NGXASI may not be unconnected with high interest rate in money market. The market may likely move upward during the week as investors may take position on stocks that declared good results and pay good dividend to investors. In the coming week, we expect the market to return to positive note as we expect more impressive end of year returns. We will continue to advise investors to trade only on fundamentally justified stocks as the weak macro economic environment remains a significant challenge for listed companies. In the light of the above we want to recommend the under listed stocks for purchase during the week. UCAP PLC, UBA PLC, MYNN PLC, ZENITH, NB PLC, AFRIPRUD plc, FLOUR MILLS PLC, DANGOTE CEMENT PLC,, WAPCO PLC and TRANSCORP AS SPECULATIVE STOCK

The Equity Portfolio Model which closed the previous week at 6.99% depreciated during the week, and closed the week at 5.94% (YTD). This can be compared with NGX All Share Index which closed at 1.25% in the previous week, but depreciated during the week and closed at +0.20% {YTD}. The EPM depreciated during the week under review and still over performed the All Share Index of the market. Some of the stocks that contributed positively are DANCEM, WAPCO and GTCO. Investors are thereby advised to take into consideration selection of stocks in diversified sectors to minimize risk, good dividend paying stocks and strong fundamentals to enhance the value of the portfolio. Key. Tcost means total cost of the transactions including charges (market price*units plus charges). Unit cost is total cost per unit of the stocks. B-E Price is break-even price i.e the price the portfolio will not record any gain or loss. Target price is the price we want to sell.

INVESTMENT BASICS

MUTUAL FUNDS

A mutual fund is a collection of stocks and/or bonds. Mutual fund can be a company that brings together a group of people and invests their money in stocks, bonds, and other securities. Each investor owns shares, which represent a portion of the holdings of the fund. An investor can make money from a mutual fund in three ways: 1) Income is earned from dividends on stocks and interest on bonds. A fund pays out nearly all of the income it receives over the year to fund owners in the form of a distribution. 2) If the fund sells securities that have increased in price, the fund has a capital gain. Most funds also pass on these gains to investors in a distribution. 3) If fund holdings increase in price but are not sold by the fund manager, the fund's shares increase in price. You can then sell your mutual fund shares for a profit. Funds will also usually give you a choice either to receive a cheque for distributions or to reinvest the earnings and get more shares.

Advantages of Mutual Funds

- Professional Management - The primary advantage of funds is the professional management of your money. Investors purchase funds because they do not have the time or the expertise to manage their own portfolios. A mutual fund is a relatively inexpensive way for a small investor to get a full-time manager to make and monitor investments.
- Diversification - By owning shares in a mutual fund instead of owning individual stocks or bonds, your risk is spread out. The idea behind diversification is to invest in a large number of assets so that a loss in any particular investment is minimized by gains in others. In other words, the more stocks and bonds you own, the less any one of them can hurt you. Large mutual funds typically own hundreds of different stocks in many different industries. It wouldn't be possible for an investor to build this kind of a portfolio with a small amount of money.
- Economies of Scale - Because a mutual fund buys and sells large amounts of securities at a time, its transaction costs are lower than what an individual would pay for securities transactions.
- Liquidity - Just like an individual stock, a mutual fund allows you to request that your shares be converted into cash at any time.
- Simplicity - Buying a mutual fund is easy! Pretty well any bank has its own line of mutual funds, and the minimum investment is small. Most companies also have automatic purchase plans whereby as little as N100 can be invested on a monthly basis.

Disadvantages of Mutual Funds

- Professional Management - Many investors debate whether or not the professionals are any better than you or I at picking stocks. Management is by no means infallible, and, even if the fund loses money, the manager still gets paid.
- Costs - Creating, distributing, and running a mutual fund is an expensive proposition. Everything from the manager's salary to the investors' statements cost money. Those expenses are passed on to the investors.
- Dilution - It's possible to have too much diversification. Because funds have small holdings in so many different companies, high returns from a few investments often don't make much difference on the overall return. Dilution is also the result of a successful fund getting too big. When money pours into funds that have had strong success, the manager often has trouble finding a good investment for all the new money.
- Taxes - When a fund manager sells a security, a capital-gains tax is triggered. Investors who are concerned about the impact of taxes need to keep those concerns in mind when investing in mutual funds. Taxes can be mitigated by investing in tax-sensitive funds or by holding non-tax sensitive mutual fund in a tax-deferred accounts.
